Air Defense Master Plan Meets Criticism

LITHESOME SANDRA BABCOCK, 18-year-old Palm Springs High LITHESOME SANDRA BABCOCK, 18-year-old Palm Springs High School graduate, is the fourth Village beauty to register for competition in the annual Miss Palm Springs contest, scheduled for Tuesday night at the Chi Chi Starlite Room. A willowy blonde, Sandra plans to enter college before she settles down on her future career. Meantime, her present interests favor singing, dancing and swimming. Standing five feet, 5½ inches high, Sandra tips the scale at 110 pounds and registers 36-22-35 on the measuring tape. Deadline for registration of Miss Palm Springs candidates is 6 p.m., today, at the Desert Sun offices. All resort area girls over 16 are invited to join the beauty pageant—the first step towards the titles of Miss California, Miss United States and Miss Universe. (Desert Sun Photo).

BEAUTY PAGEANT SET FOR TUESDAY

A single brilliant spotlight, focused on a flower covered throne on stage in the Chi Chi Starlite (Markley), Miss Palm Springs — 1960, will be crowned by pretty Karol Himes (Markley), Miss Palm Springs — 1963 and second place winner of the 1953 Miss California contest, Applications for contestants will all defense missiles.

A complete show, produced by PlayerStage director Martin Beck, for the second year will be start dewith the special Miss Palm Springs to the 1953 Miss California contest, Applications for contestants will close tonight at 6 p.m., at which time they must be inthe hands of the Pageant Committee at the Desert Sun offices at 174 North Palm Canyon Drive.

TO DATE OVER $300 worth of valuable prizes are awaiting Miss Palm Springs, including a vacation trip, a wrist watch, complete so which this you could go a lot furt of savings," said Se Case (R.S.D.).

Two New songs have been written by Beck, with music by Cole Porter, for this year's show. The song "Gris" will be entwined in the production of an all girl chorus made of the famed Palm Springs Debs: and the second, "You Can Be a Beauty." will be presented when John Robert Powers models show how a girl can become a beauty in just three minutes, and will remain on stage during her transformation.

To keep the show moving at a fast pace, without lags or silent spaces, Beck has coordinated the entire presentation into a big production, including singing, dancing and beauty.

STARTING AT 8 p.m. the show is scheduled to last about two hours, with contestants appearing at least three times on stage.

Vacation Reading Club to Start

By GERRY VANEK

I love a parade! You love a parade! Everyone loves a parade! And here comes a new and differ-ent one for Palm Springs — A Michael Cosgrove were tied for BOOK PARADE!

Yes, thats the theme of this summer's vacation reading club in the children's room. Just wait until you see the Parade of Books! Sprightly stick figures sporting banners and billowing balloons bieyeling and unicycling . . beating drums . tootling trum-pets . blowing burgles . rollicking along on roller skates . juggling jiggly balls . agile acrobats turning cartwheels .

BUT SOMETHING'S missing!
There's not a face in the place!
And that's where YOU come in!
From June 15 to Aug 15, for every book you read (and list on the back of your parade chart) you'll receive a colorful sticker so that you can place a face! You'll chuckle at the expressive expressions on these funny little faces!

with their tricks after the stories, refreshments, and presentation of prizes. These two talented toys were brought to the party for "sharing" by Tracy and Laine Ploan.

Story hours will resume with the opening of the Branch library in its new location (131 Morongo—1½ blocks south of its present spot) in the fall. Good news for story-attendance charts.

Rosemary Kite (with 31 out of a possible 33 marks) was first in second place, with Tracy Floan placing third.

Joan Pace was the leader of the intermediate group; she, like Rosemary, had 31 out of 33. Nanwas second, while her ally Elliott, and John ster, Wally Elliott, . Hathaway tied for third place.

ROSEMARY, JOHN, and Joan s were winners in the upper brack-ets last year, too!

THE PARTIES at the Branch Library for the Wednesday story ward to having all of you marching along with us in the summer-

DEAR ABBY: I am thirteen and am in love with the paper boy. He says he wants to be a newspaper reporter and is starting at the bottom. The trouble is there are two other girls who are also after him. They are both prettier than I am and have nicer clothes. They say they don't like him but the way they look at him.
